Your Curiosity

Hey Granger!

By now, you've probably started settling into the school year, and you might be wondering, "What else can I get involved in?" Well, let me tell you - now is the perfect time to explore new interests and see what sparks your curiosity! Part of "Pushing Boundaries" means trying new things, stepping out of your comfort zone, and discovering talents and passions you never knew you had.

Grange School has so many amazing extracurricular activities and clubs for you to choose from. Whether you're into sports, arts, science, or leadership, there's something for everyone! Here are a few ways you can dive into the exciting opportunities waiting for you:

► Sports Teams and Clubs

From football and basketball to swimming and rugby, Grange has a strong sports culture that will push you to be physically and mentally fit. If you've never joined a sports team before, this could be your year to get involved and experience the thrill of teamwork and competition! That said, you do not want to miss participating in our Inter House Sports Competition for any reason!

► Creative Arts & Music

Are you a budding actor, artist, or musician? The drama, arts and music clubs at Grange School are a great place to let your creative energy flow. Whether it's painting, performing on stage, or learning an instrument, there's always something new to try. Don't be afraid to express yourself!

► Science and Tech Clubs

For the curious minds, we've got amazing STEM clubs like robotics, coding, and science fairs where you can push the boundaries of innovation. Experiment with ideas, create cool gadgets, and work with like-minded peers to solve real-world problems!

► Leadership and Volunteering

Want to make a difference? Grange offers leadership programs and volunteer activities where you can step up, take charge, and give back to the community. Leadership isn't just about being in charge - it's about pushing your boundaries and inspiring others to do the same.

► Why Try Something New?

Here's the thing: You never know what you'll love or where you'll excel until you try it. It's okay if you've never done something before. What matters is your willingness to explore and learn. By getting involved, you're expanding your skills, making new friends, and building confidence that will help you in and out of the classroom.

So, what are you waiting for? This year, push your boundaries by exploring something new. Who knows? You might just find your next passion!
